

Trinity College Dublin

The Nael G Bunni Lecture 2024

“International Construction Arbitration: Seven Current Conundrums ” delivered by

Dr. Hamish Lal

Solicitor-Advocate

Venue: The Martin Uí Chadhain Theatre, The Arts Building, Trinity College Dublin

Date: Tuesday 23 January 2024

Time 17:30

A public lecture

Free of charge but registration required:

<https://www.eventbrite.ie/e/trinity-college-dublin-the-nael-g-bunni-lecture-2024-tickets-777597313497>

Information: James Bridgeman SC jbridgeman@lawlibrary.ie

Dr. Hamish Lal

Solicitor-Advocate

Dr. Hamish Lal is a specialist in international construction arbitration, ranked in Band 1 for both construction and international construction arbitration in Chambers UK, and in the top tier in the The Legal 500: UK. He is the Chair of The Society of Construction Law and The Adjudication Society.

He is an adjunct professor at University College Dublin Sutherland School of Law, a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, a Fulbright Scholar, a General Editor of the Construction Law Journal and author of the Manual of Construction Agreements published by LexisNexis.

Hamish deals with prospective and retrospective delay analysis, disruption, cumulative impact claims, FEED errors, nonconformance reports, design codes (such as DNV-OS-J101), pipeline weld defects, bad-weather windows, vessel-standby, unforeseen ground conditions, professional negligence, taking over/completion, liquidated damages, incentive payments, variations, bond calls (based on URDG758) and termination under various forms of contract under the International Federation of Consulting Engineers (FIDIC), CRINE/LOGIC and NEC3/4.